

Exploring Wetherill Mesa

Wetherill Mesa: A Different Experience

Welcome to the “quieter side” of Mesa Verde National Park. Wetherill Mesa offers easy bicycle rides and short hiking trails to archeological sites, as well as expansive views and scenic overlooks. The 5-mile (8 km) Long House Loop is open for hiking and bicycle riding, as well as leashed pets, and is wheelchair accessible. In addition to hiking numerous trails and riding your bicycle on the Long House Loop (paved) trail, consider visiting Step House, or taking a ranger-guided tour of Long House. This is an ideal area for families who want to get out of the car to explore Mesa Verde!

Getting There - Wetherill Mesa Road

The Wetherill Mesa Road begins at milepost 15 along the main park road in the Far View Area. The 12-mile (19 km) road is narrow, steep, and winding, following the northern and western boundary of the park, offering spectacular views of the surrounding valleys. It is not suitable for large RVs or bicycles. Vehicles must be less than 25 feet long to drive this road. Vehicles over 8,000 lbs GVW are prohibited.

Allow 45 minutes to one hour to drive the Wetherill Mesa Road, round-trip. Pullouts are located in many locations; please use them to allow faster drivers to pass.

The Wetherill Mesa Road is open 8:00 am to sunset.

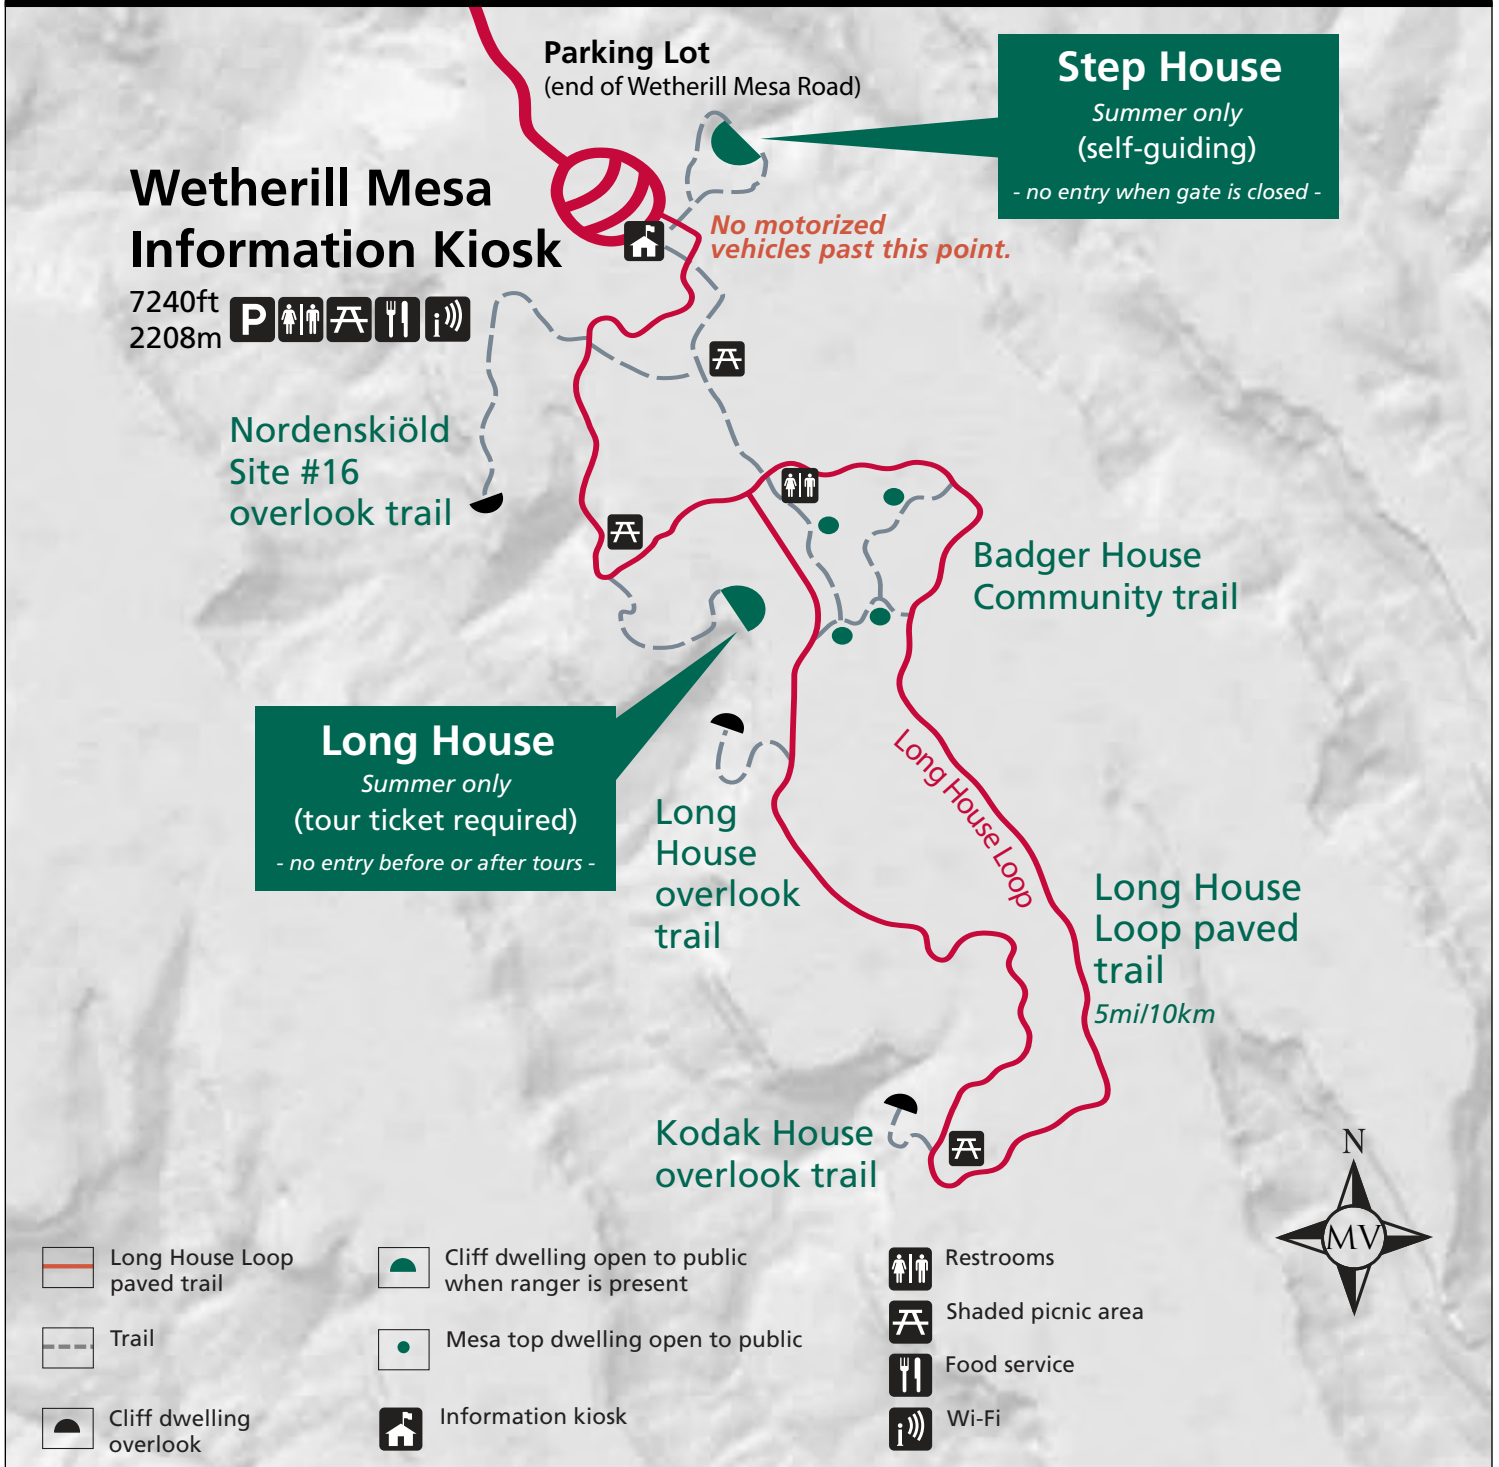

Make This Your First Stop - Wetherill Mesa Information Kiosk

The Wetherill Mesa Information Kiosk is located near the parking area at the end of Wetherill Mesa Road. Rangers are available to help you plan your visit. Picnic tables, restrooms, sales area, and snack service are all located nearby. The kiosk is open daily, 9:00 am to 6:30 pm.

The paved Long House Loop begins at the kiosk and leads to several paved and unpaved trails you can hike or bicycle. See inside for details. Some trails are open for bicycles, while others are for pedestrians only. Please check signs at trailheads before taking your bicycle on any trail.

Things to Do

Biking the Long House Loop

- With your bicycles, ride the Long House Loop (about five miles [8 km] round-trip). Restrooms are located at the mid-point. Bike racks are provided at trailheads; we recommend you wear helmets and lock your bikes.

Bike rack at trailhead

- Hike or ride your bicycle to the trailhead for the Kodak House overlook (about 2.25 miles [3.6 km] on the Long House Loop) or Long House overlook (about 1.5 miles [2.4 km] on the Long House Loop). Park your bikes at the trailheads, then take short 0.15 mile (0.24 km) walks to the overlooks.

Picnicing at shaded kiosk

- Have a picnic at one of the shaded tables located near the kiosk, or along the Long House Loop whenever you're ready. Remember: food and drinks other than water are not permitted in any of the archeological sites. Crumbs attract burrowing animals which destroy archeological information. Please pack out all trash.

Step House

- Take a hike and explore Step House. In this unusual site, you can see two separate construction eras in the same alcove; Modified Basketmaker, dating to A.D. 626, and a Classic Pueblo masonry pueblo dating to A.D. 1226.

Allow 45 minutes to one hour for the 100-foot (30 m) descent and ascent on a winding path. Total walking distance is about one mile (1.6 km). The loop trail begins near the Wetherill Mesa kiosk. A ranger is available for questions. Open 11:15 am to 4:15 pm.

Trails

Sheltered archeological site

Badger House Community

This trail begins at the kiosk and heads south, gently dropping in elevation. After passing the junction to Nordenskiöld Site #16 trail and crossing the Long House Loop, the trail winds through four mesa top archeological sites. Your walk through this area is a journey through 600 years of prehistory. Interpretive signs explain the various sites.

Round-trip from kiosk via trail is 2.25 miles (3.6 km); elevation change is about 130 feet (40 m).

View of Nordenskiöld Site #16

Nordenskiöld Site #16

This easy trail leads to an overlook of the Nordenskiöld Site #16 cliff dwelling. Guided by members of the Wetherill family, Gustav Nordenskiöld photographed and documented many archeological sites and eventually concluded that the modern Hopi and the ancient Mesa Verde inhabitants were closely related.

Round-trip from kiosk is 2.0 miles (3.2 km); elevation change is about 87 feet (27 m).

Ranger-led Tour

Ranger and visitors on Long House tour

Long House

You must join a ranger-guided hike to visit Long House. Tickets cost $4.00 per person at the Visitor and Research Center. Long House is a large cliff dwelling that includes 150 rooms and 21 kivas. The two-hour tour involves hiking 2.25 miles (3.6 km) round-trip with ladders, stairs, and a 130 feet (40 m) elevation gain. The tour ends at the Long House trailhead, giving you the option of exploring more of Wetherill Mesa on your own. Tour begins at the kiosk.

Tours at 9:30 am, 10:30 am, 2:00 pm, and 4:00 pm

Protect Yourself, Protect the Park

Wetherill Mesa is remote, so be prepared and plan ahead for your safety and comfort. Services are limited at Wetherill Mesa, and cell service is patchy; it is most likely to connect in locations near overlooks. Call 911 or find a ranger in an emergency.

Wetherill Mesa is a day-use only area. The gate across the Wetherill Mesa Road at Far View will generally be opened for the day about 8:00 am and closed for the evening at sunset. Be sure to allow at least 30 minutes of driving time to exit the gate at Far View by sunset.

To help you have a safe and enjoyable visit, you are responsible for knowing and following park rules.

- Services are limited at Wetherill Mesa. Take water, snacks, clothing, bike locks, and bike repair supplies needed for the day. Restrooms, water, and picnic tables are available. A snack shop, located near the kiosk, is open from 9:00 am to 5:00 pm.

- Summer weather can be hot and the climate is dry. Carry and drink plenty of water, and ensure you have extra supplies such as a hat, sunscreen, and raingear. Afternoon thunderstorms are common in the mid to late summer months and can approach quickly.
- If thunderheads are building, watch the sky. Move away from overlooks and rim rock when lightning threatens. Your car is the safest place on Wetherill Mesa to be in a thunderstorm.

- Bicycles are welcome on the Long House Loop and other marked trails, including the Badger House Community trail. Bikes are not allowed within the archeological site shelters; bike racks are available. Some trails are open for bicycles, while others are for pedestrians only. Please check signs at trailheads before taking your bicycle on any other trail. Bike racks are provided throughout Wetherill Mesa, and at all trailheads; we recommend you lock your bikes and wear helmets.
- Off-trail hiking, riding your bicycle off a permitted trail, and entering closed sites or areas is prohibited.

- Pets must be on a leash at all times. Pet friendly trails will be marked, and include the Long House Loop and Nordenskiold Site #16 trails. Pets are not allowed in the restrooms or in the sales and food service areas of the Wetherill Mesa Information kiosk. Please clean up after your pet. A number of pet-waste stations are available along the trails.

- All archeological sites and artifacts are protected at Mesa Verde. Do not touch, sit, stand, or lean on walls, or disturb or move stones or artifacts. Entering closed sites, collecting artifacts or disturbing archeological sites is illegal. Collecting plants, stones or any natural item is also illegal. Mesa Verde National Park is protected as a legacy for future generations; please do your part.
- Do not eat or smoke in any of the archeological sites.

- Pack out all your trash, including pet waste.

Please report emergencies or illegal activity by contacting a staff member on site, or calling (970) 529-4622.
